Biographical Note

S. Sgt. Glenn R. Fackler was born on January 17, 1917 in Detroit, Michigan.

He was inducted into Military Service in November of 1943 and began his training at Camp Blanding, Florida in 1944. Fackler was sent to Europe as a replacement into the 7th Armored Division in Metz, France. He went into Company A of the 38th Armored Infantry Battalion’s 3rd Platoon machine gun squad. He served in the Battle of the Bulge and was wounded by a 20mm High Explosive shell. Upon his discharge he was awarded the Combat Infantry Badge, Silver Star, Bronze Star, Presidential Unit Citation, the Belgian Fourregere, Purple Heart and three European Theatre of Operations stars.

He was soon sent home and returned to his trade as a Commercial Painting General Foreman. After his retirement, Fackler became active in his church and took the position of National Secretary (later Chaplain and President) of the 7th Armored Division Association where he remained for over twenty years.

Scope and Content of the Collection

Arrangement

The collection arrived in no particular order. PMML staff has arranged its papers, documents, photographs and objects into ten series. These series are:

Series One: S. Sgt. Glenn R. Fackler, Sr.

This series contains papers related to S. Sgt. Fackler’s military service in WWII with the 7th Armored Division "Lucky Seventh", his personal life, photos, newspaper articles, military papers related to George D. Bell (1918), military papers related to Ralph E. McCubbin (friend of the Facklers), and Roger Koops’s booklet on the 104th Infantry Division "Timberwolves" (friend of Glenn Fackler).

Series Two: M. Sgt. Llewellyn M. Chilson (first cousin of Glenn Fackler)

This series contains papers, newsletters, newspaper articles, copies of photographs, citations for medals, correspondence with military/Whitehouse officials concerning the request of the Congressional Medal of Honor (pursued by Mary Chilson (wife), children and Glenn Fackler) and newspaper article about Matt Urban and Audie Murphy (most decorated WWII vets and Medal of Honor recipients).

Series Three: WWII Arts and Culture

This series contains playbills, poems, reenactment programs and comics relating to and from WWII.

Series Four: U.S. Presidents of WWII

This series contains souvenirs from the Franklin D. Roosevelt’s Little Whitehouse and Museum and the Dwight D. Eisenhower Library in Kansas.

Series Five: Commemorative Magazines

This series contains magazines of the 50th Anniversary of WWII and Fort Knox.
Series Six: Photographs

This series contains photographs from both during WWII and after.

Series Seven: 7th Armored Division “Lucky Seventh”

This series contains papers on the history of the 7th Armored Division, After Action Reports, papers relating to Cpt. John E. Irland and Vincent Lodato (both 7th AD), and European Cemetery Registration of the 7th AD.

Series Eight: 38th Armored Infantry Battalion/7th Armored Division

This series contains papers obtained by Wesley Johnston (son of Walter G. Johnston, Jr. AT/B/38 AIB) and sent to Glenn Fackler about the 7th AD Unit History, records from Ft. Benning, GA, Operation Instructions, Staff Journals, Morning Reports, After Action Reports, Combat Interviews, and death records of men from the 38th/AT/B.

Series Nine: US Army Armor School/Battle of St. Vith

This series contains papers on the Battle of St. Vith.

Series Ten: Cemeteries and Memorials

This series contains papers, booklets, correspondence, and photos of European cemeteries and memorials.
