Biographical Note

Corporal Harry Theodore Oas served in the U.S. Army and Illinois National Guard immediately following World War I. He was born on June 30, 1895 in Chicago, Illinois to Charley Oas and Emma Oas (née Johnsen). He worked as a draftsman for Western Electric Co. before registering for the draft on June 5, 1917. While it is unclear if Oas served during World War I, he served in the 132nd Infantry Regiment in 1919 and trained at Camp Logan, Illinois and Camp Grant, Illinois. After the 132nd Infantry Regiment was inactivated, he served in the 2nd Infantry Regiment of the Illinois National Guard until at least 1923. He later registered for the draft during World War II, however, it is unclear if he served in that conflict.

Harry Theodore Oas died November 25, 1974 in DeLand, Florida.
Scope and Content of the Collection

The Harry Theodore Oas Collection consists of a scrapbook that contains photographs, newspaper clippings and documents related to his service in the US Army and Illinois Army National Guard. The collection contains materials dating from 1919-1923 and 1942. Two photographs have been separated from the collection.

Arrangement

The collection arrived in donor-imposed order. PMML staff have organized the collection into one series.

Series One:

Series One consists of a scrapbook containing photographs, newspaper clippings and documents related to Oas' military service. Most of the photographs document training at Camp Logan, Illinois and Camp Grant, Illinois.
