Biographical Note

William Bernard Horstman was born on January 9, 1909 in Parkersburg, West Virginia. His family moved to Cincinnati, Ohio when he was young, and he attended college there, at the University of Cincinnati, where he then graduated with a degree in Mechanical Engineering and Business Administration. Horstman immediately moved into a sales position, and eventually he settled into the hotel business, advancing his career until he ended up the Vice President, General Manager and part-time owner of Hotel Talbott in Galion, Ohio.

Horstman spent several months attempting to gain commission to the United States Naval Reserves in 1942, and was finally enlisted as a Lieutenant(jg) in administrative engineering at the Bureau of Ships in Washington, D.C in August of 1942. His role was concerned with the development of ship repair facilities, as well as with finding suitable facilities for lay-up of reserve fleet. Horstman was sent on several temporary duties during his time in the Navy, most prominently of which were connected to his help in the development of the naval propaganda film "This is America." He was promoted to Lieutenant on October 1, 1943, and again to Lieutenant Commander on October 3, 1945.

Horstman was released from active duty on December 4, 1945, and officially retired from the Naval Reserves on April 15, 1954. In his civilian life he continued as a sales manager in the greater Chicago area, including a job as the promotions manager at the Chicago Stadium Corporation and as the Vice President and General Manager of the Bismarck Hotel.

Frances Josephine Russell Horstman was born on October 5, 1912 in Sedalia Missouri. She attended college at the University of Missouri in Columbia, Missouri and graduated with degrees in Journalism and English Literature. She went on to become a stenographer/secretary for Skelly Oil Company and then the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation.

Russell joined the United States Navy WAVES (Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service) in June 1943 and was sent to Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School at Smith College in Northhampton, Massachusetts. She was then commissioned as an Ensign on July 27, 1943 and was ordered to the Bureau of Ships in Washington D.C. as an expediting officer, responsible for expediting machine tools and industrial equipment for ships. Notably, Russell christened the LST-811 in Evansville, Indiana on September 23, 1944. She was also thanked personally by Captain Phillip Lemler for her leadership in the Facilities Branch and the running of the Red Cross Campaign on March 29, 1944. She was promoted to Lieutenant(jg) on November 1, 1944.

Russell was released from active duty on January 28, 1946 and was discharged from the navy on February 4, 1954. After completing her active duty, Russell took advantage of the G.I. Bill to attend school at Northwestern University from 1946 to 1947, where she graduated with a Bachelor's of Science in Philosophy.

William Bernard Horstman and Frances Josephine Russell were married on April 17, 1949 in Evanston, Illinois. They had two children, Caroline Frances Horstman (born March 23, 1952) and Laura Anne Horstman (September 3, 1953). They remained in Illinois before moving west at the time of their retirement. Frances Horstman died on February 25, 1988 in Los Angeles, California, and William Horstman died on December 20, 1996 in Scottsdale, Arizona. Both are buried in Kansas City, Missouri at Mt. Moriah Cemetery.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The William Bernard Horstman and Frances Josephine Russell Horstman Collection includes types of materials related to their individual military services at the Bureau of Ships in Washington, D.C. during World War II. This collection also includes personal photographs, as well as a copy of the propaganda film William Horstman helped create.

Arrangement

The collection arrived in chronological order, separated by individual. The collection remains separated by individual as the series, but has been organized into folders by subject that were then put in chronological order. This collection is contained within 1 legal sized box. Series are arranged according to individual and photographs. The collection consists of three series:

Series One: William Bernard Horstman, 1942-1958, Folders 1-10

Documents detailing the Naval Reserve career of William Bernard Horstman, from his enlistment to retirement. Includes Horstman's attempts to gain naval reserve commission and temporary additional duty trips related to the creation of a naval propaganda film.

Series Two: Frances Josephine Russell Horstman, 1941-1980, Folders 11-20

Documents detailing the Naval Reserve career of Frances Josephine Russell Horstman, who was a part of the WAVES program, from her enlistment to retirement. Includes documentation of Russell's christening of the LST-811.

Series Three: Photographs, 1944-1945, Folders 21-24

Photographs belonging to both William Bernard Horstman and Frances Josephine Russell Horstman from their time in the Naval Reserves. The majority of these are photos from Frances Josephine Russell Horstman's christening of the LST-811 in Evanston, Indiana.
